CAIRO'S WATER SUPPLY.

In regard to the complaints of a correspondent concerning the water supply of Caira, which appeared in our issue of Tready, we find on making equipment in our issue of Tready, we find on making equipment in the Water Company have for the last 15 days, pumped and days, 900m., a more water than during the corresponding days of last year. They have pumped with all their segions during 24 hours of each day. The seconomous inconsumption and the abnormal wave of heet can alone account for it but that the town has had the water the company says there is no doubt. On Sander, part of the fifteen dupply was out off, as they were connecting to their new works, but this was only for a few hours, after which the service was resumed.

The company have uppent marky £100,000 on their new installation during the last 18 months. ARAB HOSPITALITY.

Fifty-three pairs of dark eyes were fixed opon us in unwavering scrutiny; it was dark, and there was silence. The eyes as they gleamed out of the darkness might have belonged to a herd of wild beasts watching their pery; but we were privileged goests of the Arab hield in whose tent we were sitting, and the gaze we's but that of insendly curiosity. We had been placed on the seat of honor—a rash mist at one side of the tent. Opposite to as squasted, our host; a venerable old man with a white beand which flowed over his bars, winkled cheet; with one' arm he engiperoted a small boy who played with the beald round the old chief's neck.
